

What is The Wilmington Art Association?

The Wilmington Art Association is a non-profit organization that provides opportunities through shows and exhibitions, for the Lower Cape Fear area artists in all visual art fields, to exhibit their work and gain community recognition.

It offers a forum wherein artists, local craftsmen, and people interested in the visual arts, can exchange ideas, learn from each other, and contribute services to the community in the visual arts field.

It supports and oversees the administration of the Wilmington Art Gallery which exists for the display and sale of artwork by the Wilmington Art Association members.

It is responsive to the needs of the community and its civic organizations and in so doing, provides services in the field of visual arts to meet these needs.

It provides educational programs, demonstrations, and lectures, which will lead to better public understanding and appreciation of the varied and intriguing world of visual arts.

WAA Welcomes the Public
